PROJECTS

1. Coulture: Website application where users can get seemliness wallpaper for their devices of all sizes, know bitcoin market price in real-time as well as search all sort of movies of their choice, save them and delete them when they want. It has great UX/UI, search functionality for users and consumes a lot of APIS to perform its task for users e.g., bitcoin market capitalization fetched from Coingecko. Tech stack used during the development are JavaScript, CSS/HTML, JSON, APIs, GIT/GitHub, TDD done with Jasmine Framework.

2. Quizzical: This is a trivial multichoice game app created with solid UI/UX in mind with Reacts and Django for making the user has that feel of coming back for more. Because to be honest, it is really addictive. The API is fetched from opentdb.com and the authentication and logging settings is coming from Django with the help of PostgreSQL, though we are still integrating other functionalities for the app. Tech stacks used during the course of building the application are HTML5, CSS, Reacts, JSON, APIs, Python, GIT/GitHub.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Coulture was successfully launched and has had a great review so far on Chrome extension from our users. It is indeed a useful tool for movie lovers so far and I have come to so much love it with my contributors so far.
